SEAFARER OVERSEAS GROWTH AND INCOME FUND LAUNCHED

LARKSPUR, CA – The Seafarer Overseas Growth and Income Fund (Investor Class SFGIX, and Institutional Class SIGIX) has been launched by Seafarer Capital Partners.

The primary investment objective of this new, no-load fund is to provide investors with long-term capital appreciation along with some current income by investing up to 80% in the income-producing securities of companies based in emerging markets. The Fund also can invest in securities of companies based in developed countries that have significant economic and financial ties to the developing world. As a secondary objective, the Fund seeks to mitigate adverse volatility in returns.

The Seafarer Overseas Growth and Income Fund is managed by Andrew Foster, who was the lead manager of Matthews Asia Growth and Income Fund from 2008-2011. He believes that the new Seafarer fund is less conventional than many of its peers because:

- The Fund can provide exposure to multiple asset classes, as its strategy allows for investment in equities, convertible debt, and fixed income.

- The Fund has a broad geographical mandate, rather than an arbitrary one prescribed by an index. Its strategy spans markets that are variously categorized as “frontier,” “emerging,” and “developed.”

Foster notes, “We believe an unconstrained approach of this sort will serve shareholders best. The flexibility that it affords will allow the Fund to readily adapt as the world’s markets and economies continue their rapid and complex evolution.”

Foster founded Seafarer Capital Partners last spring after a long career at Matthews Capital Management, adviser to the Matthews Asia Funds. While at Matthews, Foster was named assistant manager of the firm’s Growth & Income strategy in 2003, and served as its lead manager from 2008 to 2011. In addition, he served as the firm’s acting Chief Investment Officer and its Director of Research, and launched and was a manager of the firm’s India and Asia Dividend Funds. Foster was directly responsible for the management of over $4 billion in emerging market assets.

The Seafarer Overseas Growth and Income Fund is available for direct purchase from the Fund’s transfer agent at (855) 732-9220 and www.seafarerfunds.com. Seafarer intends to make the Fund available on a broader set of distribution platforms as opportunity allows. Seafarer will post updates regarding the Fund's availability on brokerages and intermediaries at www.seafarerfunds.com.
