Seafarer Overseas Growth and Income Fund

What were the Fund's costs for the last six months?

(based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

| Class Name   | Cost of a $10,000 Investment | Cost Paid as a Percentage of a $10,000 Investment (annualized) |
|--|-------------------------------|---|
| Seafarer Overseas Growth and Income Fund - Institutional Class | $49                          | 0.87%   |

How did the Fund perform over the last six months?

During the semi-annual period (May 1, 2025 to October 31, 2025), the Seafarer Overseas Growth and Income Fund's Institutional Class returned 18.60%, while the Fund's benchmark indices, the Bloomberg EM Large, Mid, and Small Cap Net Return USD Index<sup>(1)</sup> and the Morningstar EM Net Return USD Index<sup>(2)</sup>, returned 25.35% and 26.15%, respectively.

Emerging market (EM) stocks surged during this period – as did most stock markets around the world. EM equities' strong gains were driven by rising corporate profits, technology stocks, and Chinese companies. In absolute terms, the Fund performed well; it underperformed its benchmarks in part because its exposure was not as concentrated in technology holdings. The Fund's contributions were far more balanced than those of the indices, with gains driven by financial and consumer stocks. Dividends are rising among the Fund's holdings on pace with, if not eclipsing, the growth in underlying earnings. This trend is reflective of a broader shift towards improved capital management at EM companies.
